温泉寺山

A nighttime street scene featuring a prominent sign on a utility pole. The sign is a vertical rectangular panel with a dark background and white Japanese characters. The characters are arranged vertically and read '上浦橋' (Uraha Bridge). The sign is illuminated from within, making the characters stand out. To the right of the sign, a series of small, warm-toned lights are strung along a wire, receding into the distance. In the background, a building with a lit-up entrance and other streetlights are visible, creating a soft, ambient glow. The overall atmosphere is quiet and urban.
